1963

hinda,
I sure if enjoyed you
and me, and Alice getting in some your classes together! You are a very nice person to know and anyone that knows you, it should be a joy to them. I sure hope that you get to come see me this summer and and help me and I have tried to do the best for you. I don't think I would like you as good if you would change your ways even though you need to change
some of them a little bit. (and you know what I mean) I sure hope that you have the best in the world and may that bless you. I hope that anything you want will come true and I am sure that it will. I guess we will have to talk about it we haven't done anything that we can remember but may be by the time the summer draws to an end, we will have a lot to talk about. I hope that you will come this summer. I guess we will have to write and ~~write~~ ^{stay} as sweet as you are now and you will succeed in all you do!
Good Luck in the future!

Love forever

Myna

P.S. Don't say to nana
when I leave!
o.k? I know that you can't help it. (Ha)

Hi Doll,
 Well, I'm not
 so pretty good at speech
 but I'm here to say you're a swell girl (woman) and you're deserve all the luck there is.
 You're a rice, prettier girl. The book with what Vicki Santos says! She's just jealous because she isn't as tiny & cute as you are!
 I've known you for about 5 or 6 years, and maybe more, and I know you're a real friend, and one who can be trusted. (So don't tell anybody what I told you about me - Butch.) simply "murder" me. No joke!! Well, to charge the subject - Good luck with that "Special Someone", and I hope you'll be as happy as I am! Then we'll dance & sing together, o.k.? No-K!
 Well, I've robbed my motor long enough, and I'm running out of gas, so I'll putter off.
 Good luck in everything you ever do, and Don't worry about D.P.!! (Our mop looks better than her!!!!)

Love Always,

Linda,
It's been fun knowing you all this year. We have gotten to be good friends and I hope will always stay with you. We'll always bring all of James, Linda and you of course. All of them are nuts anyway. Linda (last name) you know who I mean. Mamma's are all the same. If it isn't one thing it's another.

With the aid of Miss Bost and several college catalogues, Brenda Efird considers the different phases of college life as she begins to think of her future.

FOREWORD

Within the stanzas of the Concord High Hymn, you, the students of CHS, can visualize the numerous phases of activity surrounding Concord High School.

We, the '63 annual staff, have chosen the Hymn as the theme for our 1963 SPIDER WEB and portrayed it through characteristic photographs of your daily life about Concord High.

The staff has attempted to represent each section and page of the SPIDER WEB so that, as you turn through your '63 yearbook, you will recall and associate each event in '63 with a lasting memory for years to come.

Students gather in front of CHS for a one o'clock skit by the Key Club in preparation for "Sadie Hawkins Day."

Of thee, Concord High, this praise we sing;

Under the honor system, students in Miss Tucker's world history class ponder over an essay test.

The Forensic book store provides Betty Jo Brantley and Jennilee Blackwelder with required literature.

With virtues you are blessed . . . your ideals

As the Spiders come on the field, the band plays Concord High's fight song to excite spirit before the kick-off.

In the teacher's lounge faculty members exchange humorous classroom experiences as they take time for a quick cup of coffee.

From the first day of the '63 year
through final exams, class day, and graduation,
you were a part of Concord High.
You cheered the Spiders to victory on the field
and on the court;
you marched for North Carolina and CHS
at the Orange Bowl;
you crammed for mid-term exams;
you starred in the class' one-act play;
you pondered over college bulletins, applications
and college boards;
you held your breath during Class Day's "Kneel juniors;
rise seniors;"
you worked together as a class
and Concord High molded you into its student body.

Choosing the class mascots is a solemn moment for the seniors. All eyes are on Mr. Blackwelder as he explains the voting procedure during a class meeting.

Even a simple circle can become confusing in geometry. Mrs. Alston illustrates an exercise on the board for her fourth period geometry students.

For the second year the Victory Bell rolls proudly down North Union, escorted by the cheer leaders and Spiders in the Christmas parade.

Through all our days . . . you give to us your best

Each student has a goal for which he strives to achieve while at CHS.

With this goal comes a prayer . . .
for the Victory Bell . . .
to make senior band . . .
to exempt the finals . . .
to be tapped into NHS . . .
to be accepted into the Key Club . . .
to be a Thespian . . .
to make All-Conference, All-State . . .

Not all can reach their goal;
but at CHS you learn to work together

and to share in the reward with your classmates.

Key Club members and Mr. [illegible] bring a little Yuletide spirit to the main hall of CHS as they gaily decorate the annual Christmas tree Underclassmen John Arvey and Matt Adams admire senior Jimmy Allison's ring and wistfully anticipate their own Class of '61 rings.

Following Mr. Arvey's presentation, "The Ring of the Class of '61," Miss Stewart dutifully notes the meeting for homeroom announcement.

For thee, Concord High, this prayer we raise . . .

Left: Another group of children and adults sitting on the ground in a field.

May grace be ever thine, our spirits to reach . . .

Right: A group of children and adults sitting on the ground in a field, looking towards the camera.

In psychology Carolyn Hofer goes beatnik with her bongos to demonstrate her "Learning Experiment" to the class our minds to teach with wisdom all divine . . .

Foremost in your memory of '63 at Concord High, you will recall your classroom experiences; for here you matured not only in mind but also through your personality. In the classroom your character was molded with your scholastic achievement, and from among your fellow students, the leaders of Concord High emerged.

You read and studied JULIUS CAESAR, MACBETH, and THE RIME OF THE ANCIENT MARINER . . . toiled through theorems, axioms, and postulates . . . collected bugs, leaves, and flowers . . . experimented with H_2CO_3 and NH_4OH . . . assembled and disassembled files and correspondences . . . stumbled over the history of North Carolina, the United States, and the World . . . performed acrobatics and tumbles on the trampoline . . . and translated Latin, French, and Spanish exercises.

For five years you studied and learned what Concord High sought to teach you, and, from the classroom, you emerged as an individual.

Mr. Goodman explains to Merley Gover and Frances Batte the procedure the Student Assemblymen are to follow in distributing the madras belts, bands, and scarves.

During class the zoology students observe as Mr. Goodman points out the muscles of a dissected cat.

We, the senior class of 1963, will remember you because . . .

you introduced us into "the science of life" with a force that awakened us to the realization of the world around us . . .

you sponsored and upheld the principles of Concord High through the Student Assembly and Student Council . .

you gave us your originality and endless hours of work to net three prize winning Christmas floats during our high school years . . .

you inspired in each of us a desire to do our best at everything, whether it be scholastical or social . .

you showed your interest in our petty wants, and, under your guidance, we learned to live and act as young adults . . .

Because you challenged us to a higher goal, we respect and admire you, and dedicate our 1963 SPIDER WEB to you,
Mr. James C. Goodman.

GUIDANCE

"Our minds to teach . . ."

Teacher-student was not the only relationship
you shared with the '63 faculty,
for from them you likewise received understanding,
service in sponsoring the student body's extracurricular activities,
and encouragement
to push ahead in all your endeavors.

Mr. R. W. ... Mr. A. A. Thomas, Jr. and Mr. W. W. Hartse, Superintendent of the Concord City Schools

Serving as the 62nd PTA Officers are ... Mr. E. M. ... Mrs. ... Mr. ... and Mr. Fletcher Hartse, Treasurer

P. T. A. OFFICERS

Founded as a means for better understanding the students of Concord High, the Parent-Teacher Association meets regularly to discuss student problems and initiate worthwhile actions to improve the academic program of CHS. The PTA serves as an opportunity for the parent to discuss his child with the individual faculty members who offer suggestions to help improve the student's scholastic achievement

As Principal Ralph A. Glenn looks on, his secretary, Miss Barbara Alley, handles the daily administrative affairs of Concord High students.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

The welfare of the students and the complete management of Concord High rests on the shoulders of our able principal, Mr. Ralph Glenn. Aside from completing college recommendations, arranging class schedules and organizing the daily activities of Concord High, Mr. Glenn is always ready to take an understanding view into the problems of individual students.

Under the supervision of Mr. Glenn, Miss Barbara Alley serves Concord High as secretary. Revising student files, averaging grades, and handling the correspondence of CHS are only a few of Miss Alley's responsibilities. Being a '60 graduate of Concord High, Miss Alley is familiar with the routine of CHS and has proved to be a valuable asset to the administration of Concord High this year.

Having approached the goal toward which we Seniors have worked for twelve years, we are able to look back at our careers at Concord High School, but not without a feeling of nostalgia.

We remember our first days at CHS as struggling seventh and eighth graders—the maze of halls, the strange faces, the new routine. But we overcame these early anxieties in time to enjoy the Raleigh trip, and as Freshmen, we were firmly established. Our sophomore year was highlighted by projects and translations which we smile to recall.

Organized as a class for the first time our junior year, we began having class meetings, electing officers, and planning for the fun-filled days in Florida, which passed all too quickly.

As Seniors, we looked with pride when our classmates received awards or honor society membership. We found that we were the leaders of the school and enjoyed our successes in athletic and extracurricular activities. Our remembrances are many—rings, the balcony, English assignments, college boards, superlatives, Class Day, caps and gowns, the Senior Prom, the Baccalaureate Sermon, and our diplomas.

We have laid the foundation for our future in these important years at Concord High School. We have faced triumph and disappointments. Through our experiences we have become more acquainted with life, and though we shall leave, our memories will be with us.

Copy layout is a very important part of newspaper production. Editors Kathryn Wilson and Judy Graves are shown with a possible WEAVINGS dummy sheet.

In order to keep the CHS student body well informed with the current school news and highlights of student activities, the WEAVINGS staff publishes ten editions yearly. Assisted by Mrs. Christine Caldwell, faculty sponsor, the staff members learn the qualities of good journalism by writing news, feature, or sports articles and editorials. Also, the business staff, typists, and circulation department play an important part in producing "the only newspaper in the world that gives a complete spin about Concord High School."

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Future Homemakers of America has served CHS by encouraging good citizenship and organized home management. To achieve its aim, this club has had various projects and contests to improve the members' competence in the care and maintenance of a home.

The F.H.A. sold household items to raise funds for their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. The money left over from this project was used to purchase new equipment for the home economics department.

Without preference to religious creed, the Bible Club was begun at CHS almost ten years ago. With Mrs. Lenna Lefler as faculty advisor, it has enabled its members to have a richer, more meaningful knowledge of God's word. The activities of the Bible Club enable its members to become better leaders in their own church organizations. This club has sponsored some very effective assembly programs which made it possible for the rest of the student body to share in their spiritual enlightenment.

As the largest extra-curricular organization at Concord High School, the Dramatics Club enables students to display their talent by acting on stage, participating on the stage crew, or serving on various production committees. At each meeting, programs, including one act plays and talent shows are presented. Through participation in these bi-weekly club programs, students gain valuable experience in the field of dramatic arts.

Reorganized this year by Miss Julia Becknell, the Art Club recognizes students interested in art and gives them the opportunity to enlarge their knowledge of the fine arts.

Decorating the bulletin boards and assisting in club and city projects requiring art work, affords the Art Club an opportunity to display their artistic talents for others to enjoy. Besides designing original art works, the club studies past art masterpieces and modern exhibits.

Composed of young men from the eighth, ninth, and tenth grades, the Junior Optimist Club is designed to promote leadership in the high school. Under the direction of Mr. Julian Morgan and the sponsorship of the Concord Optimist Club, this organization undertook various service projects in the school and the community. Maintaining a C average is the scholastic responsibility of each member.

JUNIOR OPTIMISS CLUB

In its second year of organization at CHS the Junior Optimiss Club has for its purpose the promotion of loyalty, service, and leadership. To be a Junior Optimiss each person must be a girl in the eighth, ninth, or tenth grade with a C average. This club, with Mrs. Zeleama Poole as its advisor, is the first one of its kind in the United States to be affiliated with Optimist International.

The Junior Optimiss Club took time for this picture. Members are Liz Albarringer, Becky Beasley, Gail Edith Craven, Ginger Dennis, Karen Ernst, Jean Elaine Furr, Bonnie Griffin, Ann Guilt, Penne Hill, Debbie Horridge, Mary Ann Irvin, Janice Joyner, Sharon Kennedy, Anne Long, Jinn Mills, Vicki Margaret Morrison, Jennie Pampas, Charlotte Poole, Alice Reece, Mary Stew-Williams, Mary Lou Williams, Lane Williams.

FORENSIC CLUB

Public speaking is very important not only in a person's school career, but throughout one's life. The Forensic Club, under the direction of Mr. Barry Bostian, is designed for the promotion of all forms of oratory and also encourages good parliamentary procedure habits among the members

The extemporaneous and impromptu speeches, debates, and student congresses offer good opportunities for members to express themselves freely in almost any field of thought

The Future Teachers' smiling faces are welcome as they pose for this picture. Members are Judy Atwell, Genda Baker, Anita Ballard, Pat Balcom, Evelyn Barrier, Nancy Best, Marian Black Church, Cynthia Cragg, Dudley, Carolyn Faggart, Chye, Joyce Goodman, Karen Ham, Honeycutt, Debbie Horridge, Annie Ingram, Vicki Johnson, Margaret Keith, Beverly Kel, Candy Kimbrell, Elizabeth Kirby, Sharon Kiser, Mary Jo Lentz, Elaine

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America, affiliated with the National Education Association, worked this year to arouse an interest in teaching as a profession in the students of Concord High School. Many members had the opportunity of substituting for elementary school teachers away on school business. There they learned first hand what teaching is really like. Another important project undertaken by the club is Teacher Appreciation Day. At this time each teacher is recognized for his service to the school by the members of the Future Teachers.

Again this year the Concord High School "Spiders" proved to be great competition for the South Piedmont Conference. To produce a winning team, the "Spiders" combined a strong defense with a versatile offense. At the end of the season the team had a record of seven wins and three losses. The "Spiders" defeated such highly ranked teams as Page High of Greensboro, Statesville, Asheboro, and Thomasville. The most thrilling victory came in the final game of the season when the "Spiders" defeated the Kannapolis "Little Wonders" for the second consecutive year. As the result of this victory, the Victory Bell remained in the halls of C. H. S. for another year.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

Under the training of Coach Ronald Cox and Coach Jerry Robinson, the Junior Varsity gained a great deal of experience on the gridiron this year. Although the J V. did not win all their games, the experience they received will be profitable to them in years to come as varsity members

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

After beginning the season victoriously, the boys' varsity basketball squad was slowed down considerably after hitting conference play. Although Coach Ronald Cox had a strong starting five and capable reserve power, more often than not the opposition proved to be a little stronger. The team emphasized speed and accuracy and a great team effort was shown throughout the year. When the season ended the boys had 10 wins and 8 losses.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Due to the addition of "roving players," girls' basketball became a faster and more interesting game this year. Led by the sharp shooting of forwards Brenda Braswell, Alice Miller, Amy Davis, and Mary Joe Lentz, and the strong defense of Susan Frazier and Bonnie Griffin, the "Spiderettes" completed a successful '63 season as Co-Champions of the South Piedmont Conference. Mr. Bill Ford coached the girls through the '62-'63 season of 12 victories and 6 defeats.

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity provides the basic training for eighth and ninth grade boys who show potential promise for the future varsity team. Under the guidance of Coach Jerry Robinson, the J. V. boys are taught the principles of playing basketball

Composed of girls from the eighth and ninth grades, the girls' junior varsity follows regular practice and game seasons in preparation for future positions on the varsity squad. Under the training of Miss Jan McNeely, these younger "Spiderettes" enjoyed a well-played '63 season.

Under the coaching of Mr. Charles Rimer and Mr. Bill Ford, the 1962 "Spiders" combined good fielding and hitting ability to produce a successful season. Three boys, from the '62 team, made All-Conference. These boys contributed a great deal to the team's success. Displaying game spirit and determination, the 1962 baseball team finished the season with nine wins and five losses.

The "Darts" finished second in the conference and third in the bi-conference meets. The team had seven boys to go to Davidson. Among these were three boys who took first place in their events in the conference. They were David Williams, N. H. Beaver and Gerald Franklin. With only six lettermen returning, this season will be one of rebuilding.

CONCORD HIGH SCHOOL BAND MARCHES

Much practice, hard work, sweat, and late hours went into making 1963 a tremendous year for Concord High School's senior band.

Early in August the band began holding afternoon and evening rehearsals. While the Lettergirls and Majorettes worked hard at new routines, the one hundred piece marching unit shaped itself into a snappy precision band. All the hard work was justified, however, in the perfection of precision drills and marching routines for the football season. The band climaxed an active marching season with a presentation of Halftime Highlights, at which time it was announced that the Marching Spiders had received an invitation to participate in the Orange Bowl festivities over New Year's in Miami, Florida.

In December the CHS band marched in the Concord and Kannapolis Christmas parades, presented a concert to the student body, and journeyed to the Shrine Bowl in Charlotte.

During the week of December 28-January 2 the CHS precision unit participated in the Orange Bowl parade in Miami, Florida. Not only did these musicians represent Concord High School, but the state of North Carolina as well.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Ingram, the concert band attended the high school music contest in Greensboro in April, and there they received a high rating among the North Carolina concert bands.

An eventful and memorable year was brought to an end when the concert band gave a spring concert and created the musical atmosphere for Class Day.

DANCE BAND

The Dance Band is composed of members of the senior band who are interested in and capable of playing dance music. These musicians are Frank Zerbinos, Phil Blackwelder, Wally Barty, Dean Edwards, Jimmy Arrowood, and standing Buddy Lee, Jesse Pike, Dale Starnes, Jimmy Southerland, Mike Eudy, Frank Fleming, Robert Taylor, and Noel Matherne. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Luther Gillon, the Dance Band has made a favorable impression at its many engagements.

PEP BAND

Under the leadership of Russell Fisher and Frank Fleming, the Pep Band has added much school spirit to the High this year. It has played for many pep rallies, parades and basketball games. The group has proved that music is a definite part of school spirit. The members of this group

JUNIOR BAND

The syncopaters of the underclassmen compose the Junior Band, which has met daily under the leadership of Mr. Luther Gillon. Spending much time preparing for the Christmas parades and the spring concert, the members have made great strides in their work over the year. Under the leadership of Drum Major Guil Waddell, the Junior Band reached new heights. A small group of members formed a pep band, which added much spirit and zest to the J.V. games.

M I X E D C H O R U S

Under the capable direction of Mr. Sammy Choate, the Concord High School Mixed Chorus has become a vital part of the school's curriculum. This musical organization provides a chance for students to learn an artistic skill with its attendant discipline of co-ordination, mental alertness, and mechanical proficiency. The chorus works to achieve this skill by sight reading a large amount of difficult music and studying the basic principles of music theory.

Another aim of this organization is to bring students, through music, the values of dedication, diligence and sensitivity, an appreciation of beauty, and an awareness of the intangibles of life.

The Mixed Chorus combines talent with practice

Although probably the least important of its musical goals, the chorus also seeks to bring to other people the enjoyment of music. To do this, the choir sang for various church organizations and for the student body. Through these events, the chorus has achieved the purposes for which the organization exists.

Three young women, Judy Graves, Zettie Leeuwenburgh, and Mrs. Jacob Leeuwenburgh, Gouda, Holland.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Judy Graves

During the summer of 1962, Judy Graves served as an American Field Service exchange student in Gouda, Holland. Living with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Leeuwenburgh and daughter, Zettie, Judy adapted herself well to the new language and Dutch customs, finding a special interest in Dutch folk dance. In July Judy and Zettie took an active part in the annual Netherland Folk Dance Festival held in Gouda. The Leeuwenburghs made Judy's overseas stay more complete by taking a two week camping trip through Belgium in August.

Upon her return to America, Judy found her Forensic experience and WEAVINGS staff training invaluable in preparing various speeches and articles about her European summer.

As Concord High's second summer exchange student, Judy will long remember her European summer, and Concord High will long remember Judy for the part she played in the AFS "Americans Abroad" program.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Matti Vuorio

Bringing good will from Finland to Concord this year was the merry-eyed Matti Vuorio. Matti, who came to America under the American Field Service Exchange Program, made his home with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Schramm and son, Bill.

His likeable ways earned him the position of secretary-treasurer in his senior home-room and a Student Assembly post. He became a member of both the Dramatics and Bible Clubs and his leadership qualities gained him recognition as an honorary member of Key Club International.

Matti added much to Concord High in 1963. Not only in the classroom but also through his participation in church and social activities, Matti did much to warm the hearts of every CHS student during his senior year at Concord High.

Miss Vickie Lowder sponsoring Jerry Barringer

Awed with the enchantment of an old southern mansion entwined with ivy, the Spiders presented their "southern belles" to the student body for the 1962 Sponsor's Day program. Each "belle" was presented on the porch of the old plantation home by two doormen, after which followed the crowning of "Miss Gridiron," Vickie Lowder, the Spiders' first choice of the loveliest "southern belle." Vickie reigned as "Miss Gridiron" with her sponsor's court throughout the Sponsor's Day activities of the afternoon and evening.

Under the direction of the Student Assembly's activities committee, "Southern Splendor" presented C.H.S. with a memorable homecoming for the 1962 gridiron season.

STUDENTS NOMINATE AND ELECT MISS SPIDER

Annually the students of Concord High elect representatives from grades eight through twelve to reign as the "Miss Spider Web" court. The selection of the court is by nomination and election of one member from each class through a class vote, with the selection of "Miss Spider Web" coming from the senior class and carrying the majority of votes from the entire student body. An attractive feature, the 1963 "Spider Web" now presents "Miss Spider Web" and her court to you.

"CHRISTMAS EXPRESS"

Reigning over the Yuletide season as Concord High's "Miss Merry Christmas" was senior, Jeslyn Austell. Selected by the CHS student body for her beauty and musical talent, Jeslyn easily captured second place in the "Miss Merry Christmas" contest held in Kannapolis for the surrounding area.

Keeping a close watch on our "Miss Merry Christmas" in the Concord and Kannapolis parades, the teddy-bear engineer of CHS's float, "Christmas Express," thrilled Concord High by winning first place in the Concord parade and placing second in the K-town competition with his Express. Designed and assembled by the Activities Committee of the Student Assembly, "Christmas Express" featured a train of toys for good girls and boys and sported a black and gold engine and bright red caboose.

In ourselves our future lies.

My dear friend,
I have just received your letter of the 11th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well and happy.
I am feeling better than I have for some time.
I hope you will be able to visit me soon.
I am very much interested in the progress of the cause and hope to hear from you soon. I am, dear friend,
your truly,
Wm. Lloyd Garrison

to be in the morning
you the year, but then you were in in living to you. Linda I know you and I have had our own and done
the year but, all in all the best but we just all day, then all next day were back together (that sounds like me and some friends, all but not at all. You know what I'm talking about.) Remember when you were had to get sick and came me to get sick with you. Remember the good times we had at Grandmother's house. Remember, the big fun you and Wade had. Big they were good ones. Even the the time he was picking, and down back to get me and my just shot and from under me and I fell. 1950, I just the, Wade had done and

Linda,

It has been swell being in chorus class with you this year. Remember the fun we have had in fourth period chorus this year. We would bring candy and crackers to eat while we try to sing. I will always remember you and your sweet ways. Stay the way you are and I am sure your life will be a great success. I have enjoyed listening to you telling me about your boyfriends you dated over the week end. Remember the fun we had on the back row in chorus. Always remember me. As you go one way and I'll go the other, I hope our friendship will never end. Lots of luck in the future because you deserve the best. May God Bless you always.

a friend always,

P.S. Remember the fun myra, you, and I have had together.

Linda,

It has been wonderful knowing you these past years through fights and fusses. We sure have had some good and some bad times this year haven't we? I hope we can still be friends and still go skating, riding, and other places together. I hope to see you around again next year. Don't forget now - keep those wheels rolling at Jugs and I'll do the same. Me, you, and Linda have sure had a good time this year so lets keep it that way. I wish you the best of luck to you in the future years wherever you are and with all the boys and "Laurie". I'm sorry about taking Jim away from you ~~SHIT~~ but some things just can't be helped. You know something I really do love him and can't blame you for wanting to put up a fight over him. ^{S.H.T} He's a swell guy and I hope to keep him always. Again, I will say that it's been fun being around you and I hope we will always be best of friends.

Love ya!
Diana (Harris)

hit me are good times, (And those times at the Pig. Remember the Sundays you Harold and that boy and I went riding
And what Harold did. (He made me read and he scared me to that one time. Maybe this summer we will stay real good friends and not have any fuss. This summer you can Come and spend the night with me some this summer like we did last year. When Billie comes home in June we will have a ball (Maybe two of them) we can even go over to see Miss. G.Y. And even beat her — again. (OKAY). I hope you will always remember me Jackie, James and Sherry your buddies maybe this summer we can all opt to after and have a ball. Going even where. As for me going to Harrisburg next year that's got cause I'm going to O'dell with you. Well I better close I'm running out of space. I wish you and Sam lots of luck. May God bless and keep you safe Always.
Love ya!
